Dear Ms Sprules,

On behalf of the fundraising team at Macmillan Cancer Support in Cambridgeshire and Bedfordshire, we would like to thank you for the kind gift of £35.00. Donations such as yours are essential for us to provide vital care and support services for people affected by cancer and those close to them and are most appreciated.

Our ageing population and improvements in screening, diagnosis and treatment mean that people are living longer with cancer than ever before so the demand for Macmillan services is ever increasing.

Your donation will therefore help us to meet this growing need and deliver the best care and support possible. This work is carried out through the funding and training of specialist Macmillan doctors and nurses, the building of vital cancer care centres, giving financial help to those who need it most, and through the provision of a range of cancer information both locally and nationally.

By providing this practical and emotional support, Macmillan aims to change the lives of people living with cancer today and to shape the future of cancer care.

Thank you again for your support and valuable contribution to our work.

Yours sincerely,

Tracey Dean

Ps: Please note we have now merged the Cambridgeshire & Bedfordshire Fundraising Office, the new address is at the top of the page.
